To others, the greatest appeal of Meno a Kwena is the camp itself, particularly in the dry / winter months.... When hundreds, THOUSANDS of zebra, elephants and a host of wildlife drink from what can only be described as one of the most productive drinking spots in view of the a camp in Southern Africa!

Meno a Kwena Tented Camp is a traditional classic camp offering breathtaking views over the dry riverbed, Makgadikgadi Pans National Park and a waterhole.

The Boteti Riverbed forms the western boundary of the Makgadikgadi Pans National Park in North Central Botswana. Meno a Kwena is the name given to a deep stretch of the Boteti River once inhabited by hippos and crocodiles. The name, Meno a Kwena translated from Setswana means "Teeth of the Crocodile"

Accommodation consists of eight fully serviced meru walk-in tents with semi-attached bathrooms including a bucket shower and flush toilet. Enjoy the view from your tent while hearing the sounds of the wild beckoning you to return once again to Africa.

The main complex with its sweeping decks overlooks the permanent lagoon where the resident pod of hippopotamus resides. Here you will find the comfortable lounge, dining area and a bar area with one of the best views in the Okavango Delta. A small library and swimming pool completes the main area.

Each of the 10 luxury chalets has a traditional design and use of natural log provide unique detail. The attention to detail and use of local craftsmanship in the construction of the Chalets is particularly impressive and attractive. The units all boast a small lounge and a full bathroom (with bathtub and outside shower).

Game viewing is particularly good in this area, and the trees around the Lodge are home to a huge variety of birds.

Being in a permanent water area, Mapula Lodge can offer year round water activities, especially important during January - May when water levels in the Okavango can become too low in most area's to allow the use of the traditional mokoro.
